ELAINE Construction Chairman Ken Wexler
Appointed to MSBA Designer Selection Panel

Group Helps Promote Consistency and Integrity of Procurement Methods in Public School Construction Projects

NEWTON, MA – July 5, 2007– ELAINE Construction, a full-service construction management firm, today announced that ELAINE Chairman Ken Wexler has been appointed to the Massachusetts School Building Authority (MSBA) Designer Selection Panel, a group that facilitates the selection process for designing and constructing public schools throughout the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

“It is a great pleasure to be chosen for the MSBA design selection panel,” said Wexler. “The organization is taking a leadership role to ensure the highest integrity and quality for all their school construction projects. As the Commonwealth continues to raise the bar for excellence in education, it is important that the design and construction of the school facilities keep pace with these goals. I look forward to contributing to this process with the MSBA.”

About MSBA

Founded in 2004, the MSBA panel represents a landmark approach in the procurement of design-related services for public school projects. The panel’s mission is to promote consistency in the methods of procurement, provide increased confidence in and maintain the integrity of the procurement process.
